

ADVENTURES OF MR. NOSE

Mr. Nose

Written By:

Christian Ludveek Houch

After waking up with no memory and missing body parts, will they be able to retrieve them and find out who stole them.

Scene I

FADE IN:

EXT. BAGHDAD - MORNING

Alternate earth, year 2305.

Small puddles reflect the cloudy sky above an illegal street market in Baghdad. Its 7:30 am. A harsh step breaks the serenity of one of the puddles and water splashes onto Bunny's face. Wakes them up. The step is followed by multiple and the place becomes like a hooligan gathering. Bunny wakes up from a deep dream. They are laying face front on an uneven floor. They try to put their hand on their sore ribs, but their whole shoulder does not move.

BUNNY

(talks under their breath)

Bobby? I can't move my arm.

Bobby, known as Head, is dead a sleep on a pile of trash. Saliva is dripping from his mouth.

Bunny manages to roll over and looks up at the sky. Tall buildings direct their vision to a small cloudless patch among a sea of clouds. The people in the market are piling up onto each other and vendors are having a "who's the loudest" competition like muezzins in mosques.

ILLEGAL VENDORS AND CUSTOMERS (O.S).

PARTS!PARTS! I HAVE THEM ALL.

COME FOR UPGRADES! WE GOT UPGRADES!

HOW MUCH IS THE NEW T23?

WE HAVE ELECTRIC ANIMALS, SHEEP AND OWLS. YOU NAME IT.

WE CANNOT AFFORD THIS HONEY BUT

NEXT WEEK WE CAN BUY IT. I PROMISE.

A Vendor turns what was a transparent layer onto a TV screen from behind their counter. It is the news channel.

NEWSCAST:

We wrap our weather forecast with cloudy but not a cold day in Baghdad. In other major news;
Yesterday night a club was raided by the police. According to the official report, some major drug players were caught. The police has yet to reveal any identities...

Bunny sits up.

BUNNY

Bobby, wake up! We are in Baghdad.
Why are we in Baghdad.

HEAD

Ugh...

Bunny puts their other arm around their ribs. Then stands up and points in the direction of the market. They stop talking as they realise their arm is missing.

BUNNY

HEAD! WAKE UP! HEAD, I DONT HAVE MY ARM.

Head grumbles and says nothing, still not realising what just happened.

BUNNY (CONT'D)

(Bunny then enunciates.)

BOBBY! I DO NOT HAVE THE ARM!!

HEAD

What?

Head finally wakes up and tries to get up but instead falls from the pile of garbage. He looks down at his legs the then looks up at Bunny.

HEAD (CONT'D)

My legs are gone as well.

Bunny is scratching their neck a bit rigorously. Its almost as if they are experiencing an energy spike.

BUNNY

HEAD

(In a frenzy)

I don't.

Do you remember anything from last night? What should we do? Where could they have....

Bunny continues to ramble and Head just looks at Bunny. Not knowing what to say anymore. Bunny looks back at the market and notices a wheelbarrow next to one of the vendor. It grabs their attention. Bunny begins to sneak up to the vendor and as they do that they keep scratching their neck until its red. Bunny loads a screen that appears above the pupil of their left eye and it shows bar. Its a dopamine bar. They are running low.

Where are you going?

They sneak up behind the vendor and as they stretch their arm towards the wheelbarrow, their hand begins to have tremors. They manage regardless with two fingers to start pulling it. In the meantime, a child duck is staring intensely at Bunny. The child is holding their doll, a bunny, and a blanket. Bunny notices them and looks back at them. The duckling looks intently and then points a finger at Bunny. Bunny gestures at the duckling to be quiet. Bunny goes back to pulling the wheelbarrow but it is not rolling. They look at the bottom of the wheelbarrow and they see two large human dirty feet. With a white chefs apron covering them except the toes.

Bunny looks up. Its the vendor. Bunny smiles.

BUNNY

I was just looking. Nothing more.

Food flies out of his mouth as he speaks. He gestures grotesquely with his arms as he speaks.

HUMAN VENDOR

Oh, you were? You do not know this but here it costs 2000 Iron-Nickles just to look.

Bunny looks at the wheelbarrow and sees the price tag. It says 1000 Iron-Nickles on it. Looks at the vendor, and looks back at the price tag again.

BUNNY

I did not know that. I just wanted to see if its any good for my friend over there.

Bunny points into the alleyway at Head but he is in the shade and cannot be clearly seen.

HUMAN VENDOR

Well, what kind of message would that send to my customers?

The Vendor puts up a device a few centimeters away from Bunny's face. The vendors cheeky smile turns and only his teeth are left showing.

Connect!

BUNNY

Cant we...

Bunny pulls up a wire out of their arm and connects it the device. Bunny knew no money was in the bank but they could use this time to stall until they find a plan.

The money did not go through. The Vendor, picks up Bunny from the shirt as if they weighed nothing. Looks Bunny in the face with an angry grin.

BUNNY (CONT'D)
I am sure we can figure something out.

EXT. STREET MARKET- THE NEXT DAY

Bunny is walking through the street market. Talking to every customer and vendor possible, while Head took the roll of the vendor and is answering every question possible about the products at the stand. His Humanoid brain, although slow, is beneficial in situations like these. Whereas Bunny's role is to ruin every sale possible.

BUNNY
(Whispers to a customer)
Pssst...Hey you! Did you know that this arm is actually broken? I know this vendor over there that has the same identical arm and it's a better quality.

BUNNY (CONT'D)
Hey! You there. This girl here actually overcharges for this gun. You can get it way cheaper over there.

As Bunny moves around and ruins all these sales they took the chance to ask around about any illegal arms and legs with "special" technology.

EXT. STREET MARKET- LATER

The Vendor is looking through his finances and seems to be cheerful. Bunny and Head are sitting on the side.

BUNNY
(Whispering)
I know who got our parts.

HEAD
(In an obnoxious loud voice.)
Who?

Bunny pulls on Heads hand and bites on their own teeth.

BUNNY
Quiet...

Bunny looks around

...T is selling them...

T?

BUNNY
Yeah

They sit there in silence for a bit.

BUNNY (CONT'D)
He is going to sell them. We need to get to him before then.

HEAD When?

BUNNY
After tomorrow.

EXT. STREETS OF BAGHDAD- NEXT DAY MORNING

Bunny is pushing Head with one arm on a wheelbarrow. The weather is still cloudy and people keep looking at them.

BUNNY
We definitely stand out.

HEAD
What?

BUNNY
I said we def...

A car parks in front of a convenience store, a human with robotic arms and legs, gets out of their car with their child and go into the store.

Bunny launches the wheelbarrow towards the car and lets it to slide down the road until it slams into the car. Head, flies through the window to the front seat. Bunny jumps in behind him in the drivers seat. Turns the ignition lever around. Presses it in and punches the drive mode button. The human-android, comes out and runs after them. She leaps forward and jams her hand into the drivers door. She pulls her self closer to the window and swings on Bunny. Bunny ducks and dodges her punches but the car starts curving left and right. The car jumps onto a side walk and back on the road. They dodge a few vehicles and get back driving a straight line.

Head lets go of the driving wheel and holds off with one arm the girls punching hand. Head with both hands, jumps onto the glove compartment, looks at Bunny and looks back at the car. He discharges the large center cap between the two chairs and slides onto a large socket. He connects his electric lower body, his eyes turn black and is in full control of the car. He drives towards a pole and opens the driver door. Bunny begins to shout. The door slams into the pole, breaking it off with it the humanoid. The left wheels drive over a side walk and to counter balance the jump Head begins to drift the car. They swing left, right, left and one last right before the back end of the car slams onto a pole. The car rotates a couple of times and finally stops. The shouting from Bunny stops a few seconds after they reach a halt.

The humanoid dusts her self up and begins running towards the car. Bunny hears her metallic steps, looks out of what used be the drivers door and starts shouting at Head.

START THE CAR.

Head does not reply and all that could be heard is the accumulation of energy in the car. Some lights turn on and then turn off. The metallic steps become louder and she creates a trace of holes behind her. She Takes her last two steps and leaps towards the car. At that moment Head manages to turn the car on and drives. The humanoid does not manage to drop onto the car. And now they Become far from her reach.

INT. CAR - DAY

They drive around the city. Bunny's neck has scratch marks.

HEAD
Your neck is bleeding.

BUNNY
Where are the tissues in the car?

HEAD
What?

BUNNY
Where are the tissues?

HEAD
Oh, under the chair.

Oil drips from Head's neck onto the seats back. He is bleeding. Rabbit looks under seat and grabs a few tissues. They rub the red blood off.

BUNNY

Here, you need this tissue.

HEAD

What? Oh thanks.

Bunny looks outside the door and looks back at Head.

BUNNY

Thanks for driving the car.

HEAD

What?

BUNNY

Nothing

Head keeps looking at Bunny. Bunny's hand is shaking now. They clench their fist and squeeze.

BUNNY (CONT'D)

I said, thank you. For earlier.

Bunny collapses and their head slams onto the dashboard. A few hours later. Bunny jumps awake, their head hits the ceiling of the car and they fall back onto the chair. They look around and see head driving.

Where are...?

Bunny notices a needle sticking out of their chest. They pull it out.

BUNNY (CONT'D)

How much was the dosage?

HEAD

Good morning, feeling better? We are almost there.

EXT. CLUB ALLEYWAY- SUNDOWN

A special police unit called P2 is standing in an alleyway. They are part of the latest addition to the high-tech government robotic unit. They are lined up one after the other. Silent. Eyes pitch black. They are heavily armored with the same technology Bunny and Head have in the missing body parts. The T2-M, weapons originally developed for specialized P2 robotic units. A few prototypes have leaked into the market.

A rowdy group of drunk, drugged up, club goers pass by the alleyway. None of them notice the unit until a sudden white light comes out of their eyes.

They have received their first command. They all stand up all straight. The drunks see that, they stop for a few seconds until they realise what they are looking at. They run in despair.

INT. 13 FLOOR- NIGHT

P2 begin to move. They enter through the backdoor of the building in the alleyway. The dead silence of the dark night switches into deafening speakers beating and the smoke fogs. The robots white lit eyes turn to red. Its on temperature sensor mode now. They walk between the crowd of dancers seamlessly. The infusion of smoke fog in the atmosphere with drugs make P2 part of the best trip the crowd will ever experience. Dangerous but these kind of drugs make it worth it. Especially, the new B-pills on the market. Some creatures in the crowd moan as they caress their cold metal body parts.

They take the stairs and pass in between all the love makers and sex crazed junkies. A trail of drugged up dancers follow them as if they were the guiding a light for a great night. They reach floor 13. They stop in front one of the doors and report back to the police unit in the base. The creatures in the crowd dance around them, the same way a few hippies might dance around an outdoor fire.

A few minutes pass, they receive their commands back. The red eyes become brighter...The creatures moan all together at once around them.

Numbers appear on the face of the robots. Its a count down from 10. The creatures begin to back away from around them.

INT. ROOM IN CLUB- A FEW MINUTES EARLIER.

A humanoid, named T, is pacing himself back and forth in front of a dinner table. 13 criminals are seated in silence. Since the room is sound proof no noise is coming in from the club.

T
Who called us?

All parties glance at each other but nobody makes a sound.

T (CONT'D)
One of us called this meeting.
Nobody outside this group even knows remotely how to call this meeting.

T (CONT'D)
Unless one of you has snitched...

BUNNY

I am bored. We did not call this meeting.

Bunny points at his partner, Head. T looks at Bunny. Nobody in this room can be trusted. They sit in silence, no words are said besides wary shared glances.

T

I am leaving.

T heads towards the door when, Bunny, throws a knife at the door. The knife Misses his sideburns and strikes through the door. Like a perfect dart.

BUNNY

No one leaves until we find out what is happening.

T looks back at Bunny. He brings out a tissue from his pocket and wipes his face. No blood.

BUNNY (CONT'D)

The next knife will not miss.

T throws the tissue on the table. Head hyper focuses on the tissue as it bounces a few times until it reaches a halt. He grabs the tissue and inspects it.

HEAD

There is no blood Bunny.

T walks towards the door and grabs the knife. Looks at Bunny. Both creatures dislike each other. He looks at the tissue and then looks at Bunny again. He walks towards the table and stabs the knife into the table. The knife is half way through. It is stuck. T grabs another tissue and curls it up his arm.

Since I had no blood, I brought you back the knife safe and sound.

He smiles at Bunny but everybody in the room knew that smile meant something else. T sits on the table and his tissue drops onto the floor. He bonds over to pick it up.

INT. 13 FLOOR- NIGHT

3...2...1...One of the squad members disintegrates the door and they all rush inside. A loud warning siren comes out from the robots and red lights flash everybody. Chaos sets, bullets fly all over the room. Bodies drop onto the floor. Some lifeless.

People from the club begin to panic and run to the exists. All of the sudden the drug trip they were experiencing became a bit too real. T hides under the table. Bunny and Head manage to jump through the windows. They land onto a truck. Bunny lands their side but Head manages to fall standing. The truck drives them away. Its an automatic driving truck. They look back at the room and all they see is flashes of bullets and they can hear the screaming fade away the further the truck drives them away.

HEAD

How would they know where we were?

INT. BAGHDAD- AT T'S WAREHOUSE.

Bunny disconnects their arm from T's head. T lays there unable to move and unable to speak because Bunny disconnected that ability. Head finishes setting up his legs and stands up.

HEAD

Ahhhh....finally.

He exhales in pleasure.

BUNNY

T tipped them off. He told on us.
He ducked before they even came into the room and I just saw his meeting with the chief.

HEAD

Why? How?

BUNNY

He added B-pills in our drinks.
Over-dose levels. Tried to kill us but instead it broke our memory circuits...we are lucky we made it.
He wanted to take over the gangs.
Eliminate everybody.

Head walks up next to T disconnects his arms and legs. They leave T there stranded. Get into the car, and drive off. They throw the body parts a one piece at a time on the road.

BUNNY (CONT'D)

We are rich you know, I got all his money and bank accounts.
